Ron's
Bas relief
art

A current "in progress" project is a fancy, "up-scale" bird house.

The inspirations for Ron's creations come from old photos, calendars and an assortment of eclectic sources. He likes to capture the detail of facial expression and motion.

Ron derives his satisfaction from seeing the plain block of wood assume the three-dimensional detail that brings images "to life." Most of his carvings are done with mahogany; Ron likes the color, tone and consistency of the wood.
