

“SIGNS & SCENES” SEEN ON A SUNDAY STROLL IN AND AROUND COLUMBIA!

It'll take a while for truckers to understand the new “bypass.”

Left: signs along Route 462 at Musser’s Shopping Center. Top: Bench made of recycled egg cartons. Below: This is the New STOP HERE ON RED sign that Motorists now see as they depart River Park.

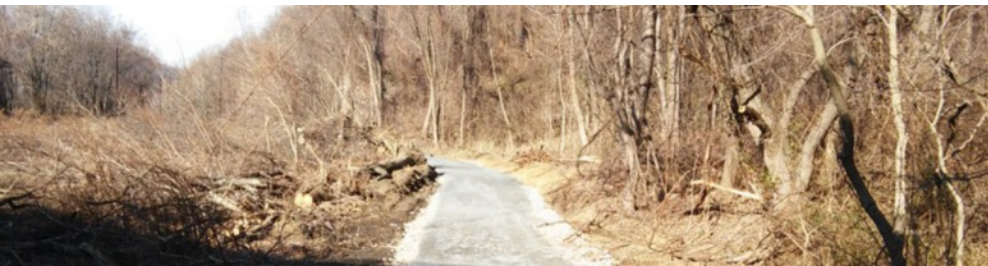

Not very inviting for pedestrians | navigating middle of the sidewalk signs - Especially tough for persons with a disability.

Above: Speed limit signs on Front Street show 25 MPH; heading up the Route 441 Bypass The camouflaged speed limit sign shows 35 MPH. Right: On the other side of the road, coming down the incline, the sign reads 25 MPH. Confused yet?

The trail ends at the new bridge traversing the River ... for now. But when completed, it'll connect to the nearly 14 ½ mile long trail.

Trail walkers: keep alert as the roadway meets the walking trail. Watch out, too, for the unguarded hydrant.
