

Opioid Threat in the Community

Hosted by:
Northeast Counterdrug Training Center

Course Description: The sudden rise of heroin and prescription opioid deaths, both nationally and throughout the Commonwealth, has presented a unique challenge to local communities. Opioid Threat in the Community, designed for educators, community organizers, and healthcare personnel, focuses on national, statewide and local trends relating to heroin, prescription opioids, and other opioid compounds. Opioid Threat in the Community outlines the current opioid epidemic that our nation is currently facing, generating an advanced understanding of how opioids work, how this epidemic has exploded, and what can be done to combat this growing threat.

Who May Attend: Educators, Counselors, School Staff Members, Law Enforcement, Corrections, Military, Health Care Professionals and Community Based Organizations

Certifications: Act 48 credits for educators (6 hours)

WHEN

1/24/2019
8:30 a.m - 3:30 p.m

WHERE

Building 8-63, Fort
Indiantown Gap, Annville, PA
17003

COST

FREE!
There is no cost
for this training

To register:

- Visit www.nctccounterdrug.org.
- Search "Opioid"
- Click "Click to Register" for the appropriate course date
- Complete the Registration Form
- Click "Submit Registration"

If you have questions, please contact NCTC at 717-861-9396 or c-brstaudt@pa.gov